

CRA Denounces Anonymous Letter Sent To Members and Local Politicians

The CRA recently received an Anonymous letter which has been distributed to local Association members as well as local politicians and media. This letter, written by an unknown source, stated that the views and opinions expressed were those of the CRA organization.

On behalf of the CRA, the Board of Directors would like to publicly denounce this letter and state clearly that we had no knowledge of this letter, nor do we endorse its contents. Any public communication from our organization will be on CRA letterhead, signed by an authorized representative of our organization.

The Colorado Roofing Association (CRA) is a nonprofit organization which is committed to promoting the ethics, education, and image of the roofing industry throughout the State of Colorado.

The CRA is governed by an elected Board of Directors and it is our responsibility to represent and oversee all activities of the association and to effectively and successfully achieve the goals outlined above in our mission statement.

The CRA also has clear and stated objectives, such as state registration for roofing contractors and continuing education for our industry. Launching a new and improved consumer oriented website to provide practical advice for homeowners about how to choose a reputable contractor, and receive a quality roofing job. Continually monitoring issues of importance to contractors and industry members, including safety, legislative, best practices, etc. The "Ladder Liability" issue referred to in the letter you received is a delicate one, but rest assured that the Board of Director's is aware of the problem and is working diligently to find an acceptable solution.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact any of us.

Best Regards,
CRA Board of Directors
